cordially invites you to attend our Breakfast Meeting on FRIDAY, MARCH 20, 2009

at Villanova University
Villanova Room, Connelly Center

with a Special Panel Discussion Entitled

“MAXIMIZING RELATIONSHIPS in CHALLENGING TIMES”

The relationships you create provide valuable personal and professional support at any time, but especially in a challenging economy. This is true at colleges and universities where relationships form the lifeblood of an institution. Whether it be faculty and student, peer to peer, mentor to staff member or the connection between the school and its alumni, relationships play a critical role in defining community and providing paths to follow in troubling times.
